Sunny

It's my mother's birthday today. We went to Lamma Island to celebrate. We went there by different kinds of transport.

We arrived at Shatin Station early in the morning. First, our cousins joined us at Kowloon Tong. Then, we continued the train ride to Central. After that, we took a ferry to Lamma Island. My brother felt seasick, so he went up on deck for some fresh air.

When we arrived at Lamma Island, we rode a bike to the beach. We swam and built a birthday cake with sand! Mum loved the surprise. She took many photos of it. We enjoyed the beautiful sunset near the pier.

What a wonderful day! -

The Egg Painter

Mary liked painting very much. She wanted to be a painter when she grew up. Her family was poor so Mary did not have money to buy drawing paper. She could only paint on old newspapers every day.

One day, an old man saw her paintings. He liked them very much. They were colourful and beautiful. He was the owner of a restaurant. He said to Mary, 'I want someone to make my restaurant look pretty. You are a good painter. Do you want to paint for my restaurant?'

'Sure. I love painting!' said Mary.

Mary walked around the restaurant to find something for decoration. There were a lot of eggshells in the kitchen. Mary cleaned them, painted on them and put them on every table.

All the customers liked the colourful eggshells. The restaurant looked marvellous with Mary's egg paintings.
